

American Association for the History of Nursing Teaching History Webinar April 23, 2026 • 3:30 PM to 5:30 PM EST

Teaching Care:

Addressing Core Nursing Competencies through Engaging Students with Ready-made Black Nursing History Lessons

Gwyneth Franck PhD, RN, MPH

During this webinar, you will explore the Teaching Care curriculum, a series of eight lesson plans mapped to the AACN Essentials that use the history of Black Nurses to teach core nursing competencies and associated sub-competency progression indicators. You will receive an overview of each lesson with guidance on how to adapt the lessons for integration into pre-existing undergraduate and graduate nursing courses. You will also engage in a sample activity together to experience the value of using history as a learning resource and tool.
